Rev.14:20 talks about a bloodbath in 1600 stadia, not saying if idols or people die. These 1600 stadia are the key to scale up to innovation heaven by teaching how to slay idols instead of people.

LLoL drafted a formal logic to explain way. $1600 \times \text{Laodicea's } 24,000 \text{ seat stadium} \times \sim 1.5m \approx 8 \text{ Billion people's blood.}$

Revelation's New Jerusalem ...

... is built on 12 gem stones, 12 pearly gates, and with 144 cubit walls. But as literal foundations, or as basic types of concepts reused all over Earth to create an innovation heaven? Jesus was a learned architect. Do it's measures make sense (as in Noah's Ark is a ship)? Or did Jesus invite his trainees to deep thought with His trick of talking obvious nonsense to mark entry points for ages without italics and footnotes (eg. as in 'tear out your right eye' to fight perfectionism)? Taking Rev.21 literal shows: its symbols matter more. Even if it arrives like a friendly giant alien spaceship, without the symbols we'd turn it into hell in no time!

Pyramid mockery or Symbolic?

A biodata analysis of Rev.21 shows a city piercing the thermosphere (~2000°C at 600km), fit to clear space junk from Low Earth Orbit, reducing ~80% of satellite launches to elevator rides. If dense as a skyscraper, its weight may rival Earth's atmosphere. But its thin wall, "transparent" streets of "pure gold", and more strongly suggest: we ignore a purely symbolic view of ZION's download to Earth at our own peril. Mt3:8-10. Earth is build to be an innovation heaven for people who love reality with their God-given brains. Maybe that's why [Zech.4:6] "not by armies nor by power, but by my Spirit" is key: innovation can't be forced.
