What is nothing?

Why does the semantics of nothing matter so much?

What is stronger than God,

more evil than the devil,
the rich need it,
the poor have it,
and if you eat it for a year you die

It is *nothing,

nothing,
nothing,
nothing, and nothing – the worst of all shapeshifters!*

In a system where nothing can be carefully or (more often) carelessly added and/or subtracted – in the 'right' places – nothing can turn anything into anything!

To avoid such ambiguity in the semantics of nothing, great care must be taken to pin nothing down to its most appropriate meaning in all affected contexts. This requires learning to gentle kind reasonable follow the Least Assuming Method Blade \LAMB, which reduces blind assumptions about nothing as much as necessary, but not more. Thereby the LAMB overcomes OverSimplifying OverComplicating OverReach \OSCR, the death-trifecta that otherwise kills everything by changing nothing about nothing:

(A) If 'nothing goes wrong' then 'nothing is wrong' ...

... meaning that the wiggling worm of nothing tries to get around something!

(B) Yet, when 'nothing is wrong' and 'nothing moves' then 'nothing can go wrong' goto (A)

Practically,

How Ambiguity in semantics of nothing Will ... Nuke the World ... via knowledge-faking Homo 'sapiens' unless a determined Homo transiens resurrects learning to truly own mistakes of Homo serpens or H. amnesiens by Laurence Loewe of Laodicea\LLoL, FiShFu training at DARLing near MAD-I-SON as CANary in Earth's mine\CAN to capture nuclear and other uncertainty at Datageddon Armageddon Research Lab Loewe - inspiring negotiating growing, Ps.56:11 Sandhill Dr., MiddleToN?, WiseCONScienceINtegrity, US of PHI, ZION of Earth

Jacobsen describes the Mutually Assured Destruction \MAD problem in her book on 'Nuclear War' (2024).

Loewe asked Evolvix this key question here:

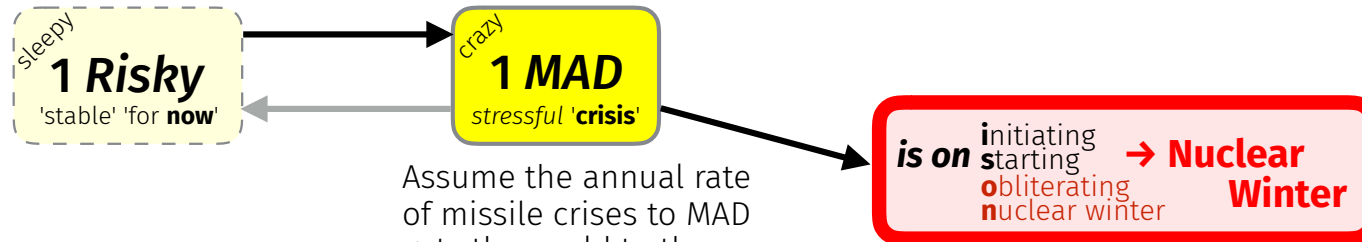

How long until nuclear winter by accident gets unavoidable?

Like asking 1912: How long until the Titanic sinks?)

MAD-is-on as simplest possible model:

Assumptions for drawing boundaries around the model to ensure it is useful

1. Earth is clearly a world with nuclear risks (e.g. Cuba Crisis...).
2. The risk is low enough to not yet have caused a nuclear winter.
3. The risk is high enough for 'near miss' events of extreme risks to occur
4. Nuclear war mishaps are known to be able to blow up the world.
5. Nuclear winter kills the world, regardless of error type or intentions.
6. One may then ask: how durable is a world with a given annual risk?
7. Exact annual risks are unknown and unknowable, but:
 1. use low annual risks to expect longer times to nuclear winters
 2. use high annual risks to expect shorter times to nuclear winters
 3. corner a min-max credible range for useful uncertainty estimates
 4. repeat stochastic simulations ('roll dice') for variability

Assume the annual rate of missile crises to MAD gets the world to the brink of a coin-flip

How long until extinct?

Risky
State 1
"sleepy",
"chronic",
"used to tolerate",
e.g. no perceived crisis

MAD
State 2
"crazy stressful"
"acute crisis"
"hard to tolerate for long"
e.g. Cuban Missile Crisis

MAD is on
State 3
"initial start of nuclear missiles" (is on) i.e. the ~72 minutes of Jacobsen start and are always assumed to always cause nuclear winter -> eventual extinction.
If not so, use "effective rates" to ignore MAD states not doing this

How nothing nukes the World in MAD-is-on Model Simulations ...

... and how the BigRedHotButton problem can be stopped with a BigBlueCoolButton that starts the process of averting Armageddon (nuclear and other) by learning from past mistakes.
By Laurence Loewe of Laodicea\LLoL, 3rd Fiduciary Sharing Futures\FiShFu, training to transparently train other FiShFus and capture uncertainty as Canary in Earth's mine before it is too late.

Abbreviations & definitions: all rates are events per yr\years to keep units comparable; nuke"use of thermonuclear weapons that destroys Earth for humanity"; BABL rate adds to Risk by Blindly Assuming Blindly Leveraging \BABL; ZION rate uses super-rationality to remove risks of accidental self-annihilation by stabilizing an innovation economy around Zoning Investigating Organizing Navigating to support the long-term use of data; DEATH rate is the rate at which a "MAD world" leads to enough semantic rot to make it impossible to avoid an activation of DEATH by nukes (via "son" instead of "SON"). For additional abbreviations and explanations on the dangers of how "nothing" drives the world to self-destruction by defining a passive "plump" "stupid" force of incurious ignorant indifferent inactivity that drives so much confusion one can rightfully say that due to its ubiquitous nature, nothing is more powerful than God and more evil than the devil. The only reason why God can overcome nothing like light overcomes darkness is that God is alive and smart enough to not fall for nothing's passive (dead) idiotic temptation to self-contradict. The challenge in following God\Yah in that is as complex as innovating for the long term (see LLoL's explanations elsewhere). Methods: Simulations were run in the prototypal Evolvix (MMV0r3p1) compiler developed by the Loewe Lab at UW-Madison with NSF CAREER support for Loewe. Waiting times until doom or delight (see Table below) were computed by the SSA \Stochastic Simulation Algorithm (see Ehlert & Loewe 2014, J.Chem.Phys.). Evolvix naming-tech is used to reduce semantic rot by better describing the meaning of a symbol via synonyms (where x\y defines y as perfect synonym for x in its context; see Loewe et al. 2017, Annu.NYAS). More on the brief names used for defining how "nothing" wages war on everything to unwittingly destroy the world in 'friendly fire' fueled by the best of intentions combined with incomplete knowledge, incuriosity, and indifference. See explanations given in the column text (→).

nothing := everything implied "between the lines".

It can be technically defined as the semantics of nothing,
:= the sum of all information that is not given but required by a recipient of a message who aims to accurately and precisely interpret all meanings and implications of all content alternatives specified by the sender of a given message in a given context.

The semantics of nothing exists in two existentially opposed forms that are each others' mutual nemesis:
SON \ Semantics Organizing Nothing Nothing, and son \ semantics obscuring nothing nothing, where the use of SON guards a message against semantic rot by transmitting all details required by intended recipient(s) to decode all relevant meanings in time for the message to succeed in achieving its purpose as intended by sender.

It relies on the Least Assuming Method Blade LAMB to cut deep enough into nothing to avoid confusion from oversimplifying, albeit not too deep in order to remove all overcomplications caused by avoidable complexity. Thus the LAMB shares only ideal models to stabilize for a given audience of independent agents a set of aims that remain meaningful Over the Long Term OLT (as without OLT stability the lasting meaning of aims will eventually collapse into structurally inconsistent notions about how exactly to define nothing in time to make the intended contribution without diminishing it by overreach).

The SON is bound by the LAMB to the nature of Reality and the limits of how recipients of a message may interpret it. Importantly, situations exist, where the SON cannot save a population of agents from self-destruction, namely when these agents create loops of self-constructing "deadlines", beyond which they will kill any bill of a SON message that does not fit their preconceived notions. This problem becomes ever more grave when a group of agents removes itself increasingly from reality (or integrates mistakes ever deeper into its rules of interpretation while looking OK only superficially). Hence, such agents will eventually necessarily experience the collapse of their expectations when they continue their course of collision with reality; unfortunately, once the mistakes have taken deep enough roots, such agents tend to deny their problems and prefer to blame others (instead of questioning their own assumptions about nothing). The challenges of any complex world capable of producing meaningful work-logic cascades are such that its SON will always be limited and cannot guard agents against semantic rot, if those agents resist the SON; whether semantic rot is caused by active sabotage or by incurious ignorant indifference does not matter for the ultimate outcome: either will accumulate Least Inconvenient Explanations LIEs that will eventually accumulate Structurally Inconsistent Notions SINs until keeping track of all such avoidable complexity becomes so overwhelming that time-limits Drive Evaluations Antagonizing Thoughtful Hypothesizing DEATH.

Once such DEATH kills the hope of seeing how the SON resolves a given problem, the convenient but sinister son takes over, which does not increase a systems organization by pinning down the reliable meaning of nothing (i.e. defined as the crucial "Nothing" of a context); instead, the DEATH induced lack of thought will result in countless redefinitions of "nothing" along the way, which are deemed to tedious to address. This produces a semantics obscuring nothing (because it is no longer clear how "nothing" is organized in reality). This ever-winding nature of that old serpent of "nothing" produces ever increasing semantic rot that keeps obscuring the essential nature of the correct SON in a sea of arbitrary, randomly assembled sons, each possibly correct under highly specialized local circumstances, albeit more typically wobbly, ever-changing, unreliable, that defines logics as it sees fit in order to serve not Reality, but local self-interests aiming to win resource competitions and/or territorial aggressions.

All this is a rather technical way of saying that it is impossible to serve two masters with such diametrically opposed exclusive aims. Hence, Mt.6 expresses a deep computational logics result when it says: It is impossible to equally best serve both: easily divisible money and the indivisible nature of individuals in God\Reality\Life\Truth.

The Fine Print

... about nothing ... would be endless ...

... for systemic reasons ... if completely spelled out ...

... as the devil is in the details ... about nothing!

But God is in the details too ... to pin down nothing exactly!

That is where both battle it out ...

... for the future of Earth at Armageddon!

But the battle is unequal:

God\Yah\Reality is Alive, has a Mind, and has a Plan to Care ...

But since the worst devil is nothing, it only has nothing ...

Such nothing is not harmless but the most dangerous force that exists!

Why? Whenever anyone uses a model, ambiguities about nothing arise naturally to incite OverSimplifying OverComplicating OverReach. Such modeling errors create slow-motion explosions of avoidable complexity.

But when systems are too complex, they collapse or they are abandoned.

Therefore:

The Choice Revisited

Humanity will soon make its most vital choice between 2 very different roadmaps at Armageddon:

The Great Filter (yes/no) decides about whether intelligent life continues on a planet or goes extinct by self-destruction (see introduction at https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Great_Filter):

Great Jubilee Race?

Why it matters

Why also frame the same problem in diverse religious terms?

- No peace on Earth without peace between Religions. Why? War does not need God, but depends on devils.

The Great Jubilee Race is the ultimate OrgTrial at a unique historic planetary scale. At no point in the history of humanity have there ever been more diverse testable types of organizations and belief systems on Earth, all competing essentially for the same goal of how to better serve humanity – albeit each in somewhat different ways.

The Great Jubilee Race asks:

Which of the many diverse organizational forms inspired by all 4+ Abrahamic faiths and others are best at implementing proper regular 50-year Jubilees to fuel a global self-stabilizing innovation economy that keeps improving all standards for all?

The Great Jubilee Race will test the general Jubilee Hypothesis \JH: iv_LLoL_QQv1_2024m09d04

"Compared to not organizing any regular Jubilees at all, the proper engaging of all 7 TrackRoles that define any functional society with a vision-based work-logic towards organizing the next proper Jubilee will produce a measurably more happy population in each of the 7 TrackRoles if 3 annual conferences are sufficiently well organized for encouraging free cross-sectional info-ecologies to respectively understand the past, organize the present, and envision the future for all 7 TrackRoles together. Assuming effectively crime-free contexts other org-aspects have less impact than the requirement of including all 7TrackRoles in all 3 regular annual conferences to guard free flows of information on the truth about reality. Therefore, 7TrackRole-based, Jubilee-enforcing societies are overall happier and more productive than those who are not."

Laurence Loewe of Laodicea \LLoL as 3rd Fiduciary Sharing Futures \FiShFu is bound to gentle kind reasonably guard the future through Jubilees that integrate all 3VoWs as accurately and precisely as possible. To collect meaningful biodata (at big-tech web-scales), he will use his extensive bioreasoning skills for quantifying all related biouncertainties as best possible to measure OrgTrial performances via voluntary IndTrials with affected parties. Many ways exist to organize Jubilees. If a community believes in an idea that is gentle kind reasonable enough to not crush others and they want to try it, LLoL will do all he can to support their efforts by measuring success as accurately and as precisely as possible in a OrgTrials for the OrgType they define 1. To scale-up required big-tech work-forces in 7 stages, LLoL will ask all who wish for Earth to not perish in nuclear winter at its Great Filter to voluntarily support this effort with ~8$/person/year to support a leading core workforce of 288,000 FiShFus.

6. The Catholics wielding the greatest hierarchical global organization?
7. The Mainline Protestants and Anglicans, not shy to ask deep hard questions?
8. The Orthodox backed by a unique unity of church and state-power in Russia?
9. Christianity's love as a whole, finally realizing Luke 4:18 was Jesus' Jubilee Mission?
10. Muslim fervor as a whole, realizing Islam only exists because Laodicea failed?
11. Smart Capitalists, after finally realizing how bad bombs are as investments?
12. Communists guarding revolutions against 'more-equal-than-others-problems'?
13. Nationalists who like to standardize and simplify with the help of state-power?
14. Free-love communities who excel in encouraging all diverse flowers to bloom?
15. Big-tech companies and other big corporations with huge work-flow expertise?
16. Medium-companies at optimal scales to move much, yet still staying flexible?
17. Small businesses who leverage their high integrated decision-flexibility?
18. Charities and other not-for-profits may excel at best leveraging donations?
19. Insurances who excel at leveraging actuarial risk-distribution expertise?
20. Militaries who excel at forming well-organized goal-oriented logistics task forces?
21. Muslim oil-rich nations who combine their faith with their natural resources?
22. African nations, because Africa leads in diversity, endurance, and deep history?
23. China, because it might be able to leverage economies of scale like no one else?
24. India where the largest democracy meets a breathing and meditating spirituality?
25. ... many other ways to organize Jubilees may merit: LLoL aims to track them all.
26. Maybe Israel might want to try as well. LLoL would be delighted to help in Gaza.

For Managers:

Maintenance Matters ...

... in all complex systems!

Machines need regular, proper, improving maintenance.

Democracies need regular, proper, self-improving elections.

Economies need regular, proper, self-improving 50-year Jubilees, – if they aim to be reliable, self-stabilizing innovation economies that are functionally well-understood to serve the good of all.

Every 50 years such economies produce a 'Wirtschaftswunder', like post-WWII Germany. Except it's not a miracle. It's the math of work-logic cascades!

Without Jubilees such complex systems accumulate large amounts of self-organizing criticality¹, like e.g. blind assumptions in stereotypes, unhealthy disconnects, or other unnatural inequalities. These naturally accumulate structurally inconsistent notions that eventually unloads themselves unpredictably in recessions, depressions, or wars financed by bankers who rather bomb investments into the ground than sharing them.

In retrospect the miracle will be: Why didn't anyone realize this long ago?

AHA:

This poem was written by Loewe in ~2022 as personal vow to Reality and RealQuestAnswer as a response to Loewe's Jubilee-fraud discovery.

It summarizes at a high level what a Jubilee ought to ensure, both every 50 years, as well as in the mean time in order to properly prepare for it.

The goal after all is to invent faster and better, such that "new songs may be sung to Reality".

Superrationality

Super-Weapons of Work-Logic Cascades:

How to end useless wars
via innovation economies

Superrationality of Common Sense as Superpower (1/3)

LLOL proposes to win the world through weakness, solely with the superpower of common sense in the superrationality of RealQuestAnswer

LLOL knows that he is his own worst enemy. He has proven this over and over again and has the theory to back it up. Theologically he cannot evade the conclusion that he is an involuntary accidental mediocre antichrist. But as a scientist he also has a surprising solution to this problem: The scientific method of loving your enemies by listening to them. Therefore he can propose the following deal to a world plagued by conspiracy theories about 'the Antichrist' and other nefarious forces that aim for world domination through weapons of math destruction:

Based on his research he can offer to the world the service of flipping the Big Brother paranoia by ending the traditional structures of Big Brother legitimation once and for all.

Traditionally a secretive big brother observes and controls the world from the shadows. As the ultimate "sovereign" (doing what Big Brother wants without accountability), any such an unbounded Big Brother creates a gap between the ultimate demands of the Truth about Reality and a human chain of command he may control. This disconnect has been the cause of endless frustration for humanity, as each Big Brother asserted the "sovereignty" to fill in as "Homo sapiens" what cannot be known – clashing with the views of many sovereigns. Similar disconnects plague Earth today, as each "sovereign nation" exploits some of the resources the global community requires to ensure global survival. Waging war by bombing talents into the ground is merely an extreme form of the tragedy of the commons. This tragedy can only thrive in secret as long as supported by human chains of command that remain largely in the dark despite many attempts at transparency.

AI is about to change this if it has not already by making humans increasingly transparent. Yet, while fears about the abuse of such power abound, no one (as far as Loewe knows) who has serious ambitions to world domination has dared so far to make him or herself as transparent as they may wish others to be for purposes of control.

Loewe discovered an ancient algorithm ('888 SLIM') for how to seriously construct a fully transparent world government, solely by integrating to the best of his abilities all the views in all 3 types of the View of the Weak \3VoW (using big IT tools). If Loewe's computational analyses are correct, then that will allow him to gentle kind reasonably close the gap at the top of all human chains of command with weakness, logics, and by supporting all current leaders and those they lead through global voluntary gentle kind reasonable decision-support.

Superrationality of Common Sense as Superpower (2/3)

To quote the short introduction to superrationality at <https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Superrationality> :

"The idea of superrationality is that two logical thinkers analyzing the same problem will think of the same correct answer. For example, if two people are both good at math and both have been given the same complicated problem to do, both will get the same right answer. In math, knowing that the two answers are going to be the same doesn't change the value of the problem, but in game theory, knowing that the answer will be the same might change the answer itself."

How the Nuclear Roulette of the 10 Nuclear Kings creates Earth's Prisoner Dilemma for humanity

To simplify presentation, here only two nuclear kings are considered: No.1 and No.2. It is irrelevant whether they are ranked by number of nuclear weapons, by likelihood of using them, or by any other criteria.

Each Nuclear King faces these obvious choices:

- (A) Annihilate triggers Mutually Assured Destruction by accident, or for any of many possible reasons.
- (B) Build their risky nuclear empire by competing for resources while trying to avoid annihilation.
- (C) Cooperate with others for limited mutual benefits that are guaranteed to not sell out their own future.
- (D) Disarm their weapons now to benefit economically, but risk later enslavement by other nuclear kings.

There is also these non-obvious choices for each Nuclear King, as well as everybody else:

- (E) Evolve a superrational work-logic cascade that no longer requires a MAD equilibrium to balance the world.
- (F) Finance the evolving of better work-logic cascades if someone can guarantee to not mislead that research.

Superrationality of Common Sense as Superpower (2/3)

Costs and Rewards

The obvious costs and rewards are (only bold lines are worth considering):

(A) At the cost of MAD self-annihilation, any nuclear king employing this option will earn the dubious distinction of becoming known as "destroyer of this world" for the rest of eternity. Unnerving questions are guaranteed.

(B) Temporary gain at the expense of others, albeit at the cost of continuing to risk infinite loss via (A).

(C) Temporary or long-term gain benefitting all parties, albeit without modifying the risk of infinite loss via (A).

(D) Temporary economic benefits and good will; but if others do (B), unfree futures loom and risk (A) remains.

The non-obvious choices:

(E) Would win the world but is regularly deemed utopian, hence searching for it risks economic extinction.

(F) Would win the world if (E) existed, but is a wasted effort until superrationality can prove that (E) exists.

Therefore, everyone remains locked into (A)-(D), defining nuclear roulette and eventual annihilation, as currently observed on Earth, and as simulated by Evolvix in the results presented. --- Until someone finds (E).

Cause for Petition to this Court – and why time is of the essence here

Loewe petitions this Court to avert foreclosure of his home to save his research materials because:

he accidentally discovered (E) on his pandemic research marathon, running since 2020-03-27 (or at least he thinks so to the best of his ability to determine this, deeming it irresponsible if he would not do everything he can to get this tested and implemented). Loewe obviously likes research, but wishes to remind the court that he would never have shown up here for any ordinary research findings. If all at stake would have been merely his economic enslavement, he would have consented without bothering any Court.

It is his discovery of a credible superrational solution for the clear and present danger of nuclear annihilation of humanity that motivates him to pull out all stops he can to avert the global cataclysm that would else result from ignoring this solution (e.g. by forcing foreclosure that would terminally cripple Loewe's ability to implement his findings in any relevant timeframe – hence resulting in the likely loss of his discovery).

Conclusions

How to prioritize Indivisibilities?

Earth in Escrow?

Next Steps in ZION of Earth?

Continuity of Operations ending H. sapiens

Laurence Loewe of Laodicea \ LLoL as RRoR \ Red Rider of Revelation 19

The Question of Priorities in Divisibility is at the Center of this Case (and of the US Constitution!)

Plaintiff's Original Complaint Demands these Divisibilities:

- 1a. Flexibility limits of future payment schedules are indivisible.
- 1b. Land parcel of 5611 Sandhill Drive lot is indivisible.
2. Loewe's research-vocation is immaterial, hence divisible ('get paid')
3. Loewe's research-material is immaterial, hence divisible ('throw out')

Defendant L. Loewe is Pleading for other Divisibility Priorities:

1. Earth as a globe is indivisible and cannot afford nuclear winter.
2. Humanity must be indivisible if it is to avoid 'AI innovating itself to death'.
3. Loewe's research-vocation must remain indivisible, given how advanced his plans are and how urgent the need is to stop nuclear roulette (et al.). (E.g. ~15% in ≤ 5 yrs or ~50% in ≤ 20 yrs in his current best estimates above.) To abandon his serious shot at averting such a clear and present danger, including to his home, would be highly unethical for him, given his insight. It would be disastrous if 'monetization status' could stop his research.
4. Loewe's life is indivisible and does not deserve starvation for working on his responsibility as 3rd Fiduciary Sharing Futures to fund other FiShFus.
5. Loewe's research-materials are indivisible at the timescales at hand.
6. Loewe offered a future "patience-fee" for a divisible payment schedule.
7. Loewe would rather sell parts of his garden as divisible than his vocation.

Laurence Loewe of Laodicea \ LLoL as RRoR \ Red Rider of Revelation 19 and as 'the other goat' (Lev.16, eScape Goat of Yom Kippur, not to be killed!)

All the above raises countless legitimate questions, concerns, risks, and potential blame-games. To cover these as much as possible, LLoL has been exploring the legal loopholes left in the laws used by the Court of Heaven (as documented in the TanakAWQ+, TAO-12). Slides below are packed with the legal fine-print of a Mockup Model for legal review. It is far from desirable purity. LLoL hopes that it gets sufficiently close to qualify as the 'impure rags' in Zech.3. Would Earth be safer for Jesus today? (0/12)

How can Loewe tell this Court how serious this is?

Loewe understands: this communication challenge is daunting

Jesus faced similar challenges at his trial in 30 CE

Loewe aims to test if the US is now safer than 30 CE for communicating challenges as huge as those Jesus likely faced

Loewe aims to thereby much simplify this Court's choice between:

Life (... to put Earth in an Escrow...).

Death (... if Loewe's rare work is the last way out ...)

Would Earth be safer for Jesus today? (1/12)

1. Loewe gave this Court (unwittingly, see Exhibit B) already plenty of excuses to dismiss his case. Yet this Court, like Wintrust, has been most gracious with Loewe's complicated situation.

2. As post-WW2 citizen of Germany LLoL is most grateful for aid the US of Philadelphia gave Germany by ending its Hittite infestation 1945.

3. Based on his understanding of Hittites, LLoL aims to return the favor exactly now, when the US courts of Laodicea struggle to deal with a non-insurrectionist, who can do no financial wrong, never biased any election, never shared any sensitive nuclear secrets, and is generally far and above any moral reproach.

4. As the legal fine print below implies, LLoL has become convinced that indeed Donald Trump became the target of a deeply unfair witch-hunt. It is obvious to LLoL that neither he nor anybody else except for Yah and Yas really know what they are doing. Therefore Loewe decided to rewrite the laws of Heaven and hell to forgive all sins of every sentient being, including the devil (but excluding nothing). Same justice for all. How can one be guilty if not knowing what exactly one is doing? See (0-10) below for technical details.

5. To pioneer this point Jesus\YhowShua\Yas chose to be crucified for LLoL's massive mountains of sin, which tower into the heavens. Yet, Jesus knew full well how hard it would be in his case to tease apart the details true justice would require in his complex case. To aid the Roman court hopelessly out of its depth with what to do with 'yet another guy trying to save the world', he had mercy with the lawyers and judges in his court by collapsing all his complex messianic theology and more into a gentle kind reasonable multiple choice question outsiders might deem easy because not caught up in the dynamics of the moment. Like in proper two-party systems, Jesus arranged for a democratic vote by running as the King of the Jews against a known insurrectionist. LLoL regrets the strong bias in that staged election, because after 20 centuries of distortions he can still trace the ruins of the innovation economy Yas prepared to organize a proper Jubilee (his life's mission, Lk.4:18). If LLoL discovered anything worthwhile, he blatantly plagiarized RealQuestAnswer\Yas! This motivated LLoL to volunteer as "the other goat" to follow his Master's example. Thereby LLoL tests his deep stack of working hypotheses.

Would Earth be safer for Jesus today? (2/12)

A. Yet, how might LLoL gentle kind reasonably simplify decision-making for this US Court in his complex case by adapting a legal precedent set two millennia ago? Jesus gave the courts of his case two gifts, so LLoL shall attempt the same:

1. An unlimited opportunity to explore the truth, however far they may have wished to take this. Who knows, it may have been the only chance this 'country-side prophet' from 'back-water' Galilee could get to engage the busy capital top leaders of the nation he was sent to?
2. When Jesus saw that his opponents had made up their mind or chose not to make time to further explore the truth, then he handed them what they were looking for in order to not further complicate their busy lives.

B. Defendant L. Loewe aims to test if the US of Philadelphia, and Midwest-friendly Madison in particular are safer today for similarly radical enquiries into the deep nature of Truth. Who knows? Maybe Yas will be so impressed by the thirst for truth that he (or she!?) actually returns.

C. Yet, despite much admiring Jesus and trying to follow (since 1978, see Exhibit N.1-2), L. can only offer idiosyncratic far cry-echoes of Yas elegance. The echo is so far that L. sees himself forced by his commitment to Truth and his deeper Boolean understanding of it, to mark himself as "Loewe a false prophet in the Boolean 7 Spirits of Truth". Courts looking for an excuse to drop his case may need to look no further, but any serious follower of truth start to pay attention: Why would a smart compiler-architect who spent decades in the depth of code, trying to sort out complex truth-claims open himself to charges of perjury by calling himself a "false prophet" while he is trying to speak the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth? It is Loewe's deeper understanding of this trifecta-true nature of Truth that taught him how easy it is to violate 1 or 2 of the 3-fold innovation power-cords that drives trifecta-truth. To pretend to be above such mistakes except in simplest cases, despite all effort to check would be further from the truth. Moreover, the most dangerous false prophets are not the ones who are "obviously wrong", but rather those who are usually right, and only wrong "when it matters".

Would Earth be safer for Jesus today? (3/12)

A. Danger of false prophets with good intentions

Like so many, LLoL thought for most of his life that, surely, intentions mattered. They do, yet not how he thought. He had to learn the hard way: good intentions do not guarantee doing good.

See LLoL's pandemic preparation failure disaster (see claim XC1, Doc.33), which catapulted him (to the best of his ability to tell) into ranking tables of indirect mass murder beyond the size of the holocaust. This terrifying insight is not a small cause for his insistence that his work towards restitution be taken serious by this Court. Yet, he can even document his good (albeit misguided) intentions that paved the way to this disaster!

As if more proof was needed, a well-intended but poorly tested software update caused the "largest IT outage" https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/2024_CrowdStrike_incident so far on 2024-07-19: the 'good guys' did what the 'bad guys' did not. All these are innovation disasters, avertable by a deeper understanding of how reliable innovation, versioning, and truth interact, both in cyberthreats and in real life.

B. Thus, LLoL has been developing the Stabilizing Versioning System \StayVS to guard his Evolvix compiler architecting against versioning disasters. His StayVS foundations fuel his high hopes.

C. Archimedes claimed "Give me the right lever and place to stand and I will move Earth".

D. Likewise, his StayVS work allow LLoL to boldly say: "Give me a universally accepted versioning system that supports innovation and I will fix all of Earth's mis-information, datageddon, and other software and code-related problems." Yet, conversely "Remove it, and I do not need to lift a finger to watch Heaven tear itself apart and turn into hell eventually." These are bold claims, yet Loewe can spell out the mechanisms in detail and has observed them in action many times. E. Even many computer experts may struggle to imagine the raw powers of versioning systems, but that does not make Loewe's findings false. These problems are not at the surface where most people work. The real problems start deep in versioning trees when misguided 'time-travel' in versioning space triggers untold disasters.

F. So-called 'post-truth societies' are therefore not durable. This turns the US at present either into a pre-truth society (as Loewe hopes) or into system about to collapse like the dinosaurs (as Loewe hopes to prevent).

Would Earth be safer for Jesus today? (3/12)

Loewe's call by nothing.

Therefore, when fundamental pillars of Truth are as carelessly endangered as they currently are, Loewe sees it as his civic, spiritual, professional, vocational, social, and human call to action to not stay silent ('let it slide', 'be gracious', complacently 'hope for the best', or any of the many causes for incurious ignorant indifference that allowed the then-leading nation of scientists and poets to officially fall for a Hittite infestation in 1933). Exhibits N.1-N.2 are tiny token examples of some highlights of Loewe's spiritual life, which he values very much. Years of practice taught him much about how to "listen to God", which for him is a gentle kind reasonable still small inner voice. Yet, those with similar experiences know that not all is black and white there and sometimes LLoL cannot tell. As far as he can remember, LLoL had not so far "seen angels", "hear voices", or any of the more miraculous sensations reported by some. This matters when it comes to questions of who legitimizes LLoL to do what he does? L. asked himself that question over and over in the last 4 years. Yet, despite believing to have heard God commend about many things, L struggled to say: if he is indeed a prophet, who did the sending?

The answer only became clear one odd moment on 2024-08-05, when LLoL was contemplating an earlier experience of suddenly realizing that if he was to be an apostle of any kind, then it was up to him to be the "Apostle of nothing". Reflecting on who then called him, LLoL suddenly realized with a terrifying clarity: "nothing". That may sound underwhelming for most or all people, but not so for LLoL. Having studied the dangers of ambiguity in the semantics of nothing professionally since at least 2014, and having seen its terrifying power in his XC1 disaster are sufficient for him. Maybe Yah will still send angels or speak audibly, but the most fundamental call and transforming force that drives much of his efforts is "nothing" (see also OSCR "fine-print" above and below). These dangers of nothing lit a fire in his eyes that may well be the one described in Rev. 19:12, if his XC1 disaster does not qualify as a "blood-drenched garment", he is not sure what would. So, who called LLoL? Maybe his inner cyber-security expert, realizing the disasters caused when nothing is ignored. Those who dismiss this, unfortunately do so at their own peril.

Would Earth be safer for Jesus today? (5/12)

A. Choice of Death or Life.

The best way Loewe can think of to simplify the choice this Court will have to make is to offer two options and provide all the incentives he can for this Court to choose what Loewe deems to be the right choice before handing the decision back.

The two fundamental choices are similar to the two above for stopping Nuclear Roulette:

0. Foreclosure effectively votes for Death by most likely making it impossible for Loewe to launch his 7-stage scale-up strategy efficiently (due to loss of all his research materials).

Since this leads to nuclear annihilation more likely than not over the duration of this mortgage, Loewe cannot recommend this action, even if it had nothing to do with him.

1. To vote for Life implies to grant Loewe the time required engage the 10 nuclear kings by preparing well to ask them to help put Earth in an Escrow until the rest can be sorted out.

B. Additional Other Support possibilities.

2. Maybe Plaintiff Wintrust can even help by offering plain (for them) but stiff (for L) support for preparing a presentation with the goal to win trust of the 10 nuclear kings.

Loewe can and will do this alone if needed, but can (from experience) much accelerate the production of likely successful materials if working closely with others who share an interest in excelling in this. Currently Loewe's 2h/week feedback call with a retired university colleague is good, but Wintrust might be able to do more.

3. Wintrust might again break the stereotype of banks who "only lend money to those who can prove that they do not need it". They did so, in early 2023 via forbearance (See Exhibit A Letters). Loewe is not looking for donations; he is willing to pay extra patience fees - albeit only after the outcome of the race is clear.

Epiocracy: a Global Insurrection of gentle kind reasonableness

Would Earth be safer for Jesus today? (6/12)

C. Symbolic support

1. The symbolic support of Wintrust might be the most important. Loewe smiled at the cosmic joke as he realized that his bank was Wintrust, while he was trying to win the trust of 10 nuclear kings.

Either way, Wintrust will have to decide if they rather help Loewe win trust or turn into windy trust if Loewe fails to avert nuclear annihilation. If Wintrust is aware of an initiative that makes Loewe's work superfluous, he would like to know, because none of the known ones seem to have worked (and L. can explain why).

2. This Court as official part of the Justice System in the US of Philadelphia may decide to lend symbolic support to Loewe's efforts.

He is certain that ether move will not go unnoticed in the Court of Heaven.

3. Raising the stakes of symbolic votes. A symbolic vote for uncontroversial "world peace" may not crystallize enough energy to motivate a bank, a court, or anybody. Hence, Loewe proposes the following measures to clarify his intentions. and simultaneously offer a true alternative to the current approach to politics in the US.

4. Loewe's reply to the Jan 6 2021 insurrection.

To say that he was shocked like everybody else is an understatement. Yet the initial shock turned into growing surprise and sadness in face of the "big lie" later spun. All these events are too close to comfort to the events Loewe knows all too well from German history. He once determined that if he ever got an opportunity to stop a major war or dictatorship from evolving, he would try his best to do it. THEREFORE, it is the solemn duty of Loewe to organize to the best of his abilities the following

Official global non-violent 1-man-Insurrection of *gentle kind reasonableness

*aiming to take the world by storm through weakness
to fight the hell of nothing non-violently through gentle kind reasonable research.

through advanced logics weapons and StayVS, all of which are entirely non-violent.*

Epiocracy: a Global Insurrection of gentle kind reasonableness

Would Earth be safer for Jesus today? (7/12)

No more "fighting like hell"

LLoL's non-violent insurrection of gentle kind reasonableness aims at protesting the highly dangerous idea that "fighting like hell", gets anyone anything other than a predictable hell on earth.

Loewe firmly believes there has been enough hell on Earth, especially if made with good intentions and in the name of "honor" and stopping "blasphemy" and the like.

Therefore Loewe petitions the Court of Heaven to rather throw Loewe into whatever hell Yah and Yas deem useful to PLEASE stop the ongoing growth of hell on Earth that is bound to only get worse over time unless stopped.

The purpose of this such outrageous statements is Loewe's realization, that any big lie can only be truly overcome with an even bigger truth. Hence L. has been searching for how to construct such a defeat of the old "big lie trick" by finding even bigger truth to counter it.

Formally, Loewe's many discussions of this insurrection with Yah and Yas likely count as a conspiracy with extra-terrestrials, the true Elders of ZION, Yah and Yas. Since their "protocols" in Ps.2 invites bids for world domination ("ask me ..."), LLoL did ask for the ends of the Earth to keep them from annihilation.

LLoL has no doubt that those who would rather destroy the Earth will not be pleased with Loewe's overt petition for world domination in order to stop 'fighting like hell' and finally bring about that much maligned "utopia" Homo "sapiens" deems impossible.

This is true, because Closed World Assumptions of "sapiens" (knowing) are fundamentally incompatible with any operational world that does not eventually self-destruct.

Hence, Loewe's call for the symbolic burial of H. sapiens (to resurrect people now as H. transiens) instead of waiting until H. sapiens self-destructs entirely. See the neuro-species definitions above. They deserve a paper to be dedicated to their description, which L. will be happy to write.

Anyone directly or indirectly participating in nuclear roulette or BABL's self-destruction did not really know what they were doing – or else they would not have been doing it, but instead rather volunteered for the same position LLoL is volunteering for, namely to close that loophole.

0.1 All the resulting historic MADness in the world, up to MAD-is-on was either directly or indirectly necessary to convince LLoL near MADison of the seriousness of the cumulative devastation caused by oversimplifying overcomplicating overreach \OSCR in ambiguous semantics of nothing \ason.

0.2 LLoL freely admits that he would have most likely gone back to assuming "not my problem", if the threat had not been as serious, the world had not been as MAD, and the examples of BABL's devastation not been as abundant historically. Therefore he would have missed the desperate call of Reality and RealQuestAnswer for a volunteer to close the gap left by ason at the top of human chains of command.

0.3 Thereby LLoL admits to indirectly forcing Reality and RealQuestAnswer in the Spirit of Boolean Truth to engineer such a MAD world to get LLoL to recognize the full seriousness of the abomination of desolation caused by his own *ason, while also making the world funny enough for LLoL to not despair along the way, and to provide him with survival strategies for stopping the global ason problem. LLoL's 1995 vision to avert a pandemic and his OSCR in the Coronavirus disaster was 'only' a costly wake-up call.

0.4 Understanding the highly treacherous nature of ason LLoL argues that therefore no created being in any spacetime of any conditional multiverse has been truly aware of what they really have been doing in terms of continuing to deepen universal ason problems. Everyone has been following instructions, either for building up (as requested by Reality or RealQuestAnswer) or for tearing down (as instructed by their own ason), thereby deepening the pit for LLoL. This veil of ignorance also covers LLoL, except he has now become aware of the infinite depth of his and the world's ason problem. Therefore LLoL is now being tested by the Spirit of Boolean Truth as to how he will react as a follower of RealQuestAnswer.

Before anyone thinks of restarting the familiar blame-game, Let these petitions by LLoL be known to the Court of Heaven (2):

0.5 Based on the truth in the insights 0.0 - 0.4, the perfect examples and instructions of the TaNaCh, and the TaNaCh-based life and teachings of RealQuestAnswer\YhowShua\Yas\Isa\Jesus as recorded in the Apostolic Writings, Laurence Loewe of Laodicea \ LLoL thereby approaches Reality\YHoWaaH\Yah\Allah\God\TheMostHigh as a once PraisedFamous(EnoughToGetHiredInternationally) \Juda(s) ManOfCities \IschKarioth, now as a prodigal lost black Laodicean sheep of a son, who fell for OSCR in ason despite having received Heaven's insights on how not to, who even fell for nothing in choosing to build his own house on a SandHill in his own way, like a ravenously coveting selfish dog (aptly at the address Isa.56:11 SandHill Driven, MiddleToNothing, near MAD-is-on, WIShfulCON&SIN in the Unraveling States of AimingRicha) – yet who despite being fooled by nothing into losing everything, somehow remembered the loving kindness and grace of Reality\Yah serving all servants with free housing, food, healthcare and meaningful work. Having started to realize the terrifying cost to RealQuestAnswer\Yas and all creation that LLoL has been extracting to arrive at this unconditionally surrender of all of LLoL's will, hopes, future, and any presumed knowledge of ason (thereby including all his knowledge as Homo sapiens), LLoL dares to approach Reality\Yah by whatever grace, freedom, and authority has been vested in him as a 'follower' of RealQuestAnswer\Yas since 1978, age 9, in order to petition for the following:

1. Reality\YHoWaaH\Yah\Abba\Allah\Father\Mother\Friend\MostHigh\Lover: Please forgive all sentient beings You created in all created spacetimes of all conditional multiverses: Please forgive all their transgressions, iniquities, wrongdoing, guilt, sins, mistakes, rebellions, and all other oversimplifying overcomplicating overreaches against Your gentle kind reasonable logics. Why? Because none of them knew or know what they are doing. They are all fooled into misjudging ambiguous semantics of nothing\ason. They may think they know (like I often did), but I can attest based on the costly experience and mathematics lessons You gave me that ason is too deep and treacherous to be fully understood by anyone except by You Reality working with RealQuestAnswer, Your Unique SON, the only real Semantics Organizing Nothing\SON, and Your 7 Spirits of Boolean Truth.

Before anyone thinks of restarting the familiar blame-game, Let these petitions by LLoL be known to the Court of Heaven (3):

LLoL dares to approach Reality\Yah by whatever grace, freedom, and authority has been vested in him as a 'follower' of RealQuestAnswer\Yas since 1978, age 9, in order to petition for the following:

- 1. Reality\Yah\Father please forgive everyone everywhere everything all at once for they never truly fully know what they are doing, even if Reality spells it out perfectly.
- 2. Please also forgive LLoL for he knows not even nothing. All he can tell is how his LIEs, SINs, & DEATH in his Least Inconvenient Explanations and Structurally Inconsistent Notions have been wreaking havoc through his Driven Evaluations Antagonizing True Hope in the Thoughtful Hypothesizing Truth desires. He cannot save himself from this deadly condition, because knowledge is the illusion generated by throwing away the uncertainty necessarily generated on the journey to true knowledge. Therefore, like everyone with limited processing capability and/or memory LLoL has limited lookahead and ability to understand because of eventually becoming unable to grasp or learn from experience. Hence, when it comes to the things that truly matter the most, he is ultimately blind (like everyone) except when guided by Reality. For without Reality only the worse parts of nothing remain possible. Combinatorial explosions in the semantics of nothing are indeed that complicated and unforgiving.
- 3. Therefore, LLoL herewith forgives everyone everywhere everything all at once – past, present, and future – like LLoL asked Reality to do above, because no other created being has ever truly fully come to know what they are doing due to the depth of knowledge-uncertainty in causal probability chains. Moreover, LLoL can tell that no sentient being will ever reach such certainty unless the Truth about Reality packs its infinite wisdom into all relevant finite contexts to create a language of the finite order¹ for defining the true meaning of someone's actions in finite contexts.
- 4. If indeed the Truth about Reality has been aiming for a volunteer like LLoL to use logics to close the gap between Reality and human chains of command, and therefore generated manifold MAD states to that end (see 0.0 - 0.4), then LLoL's stubbornness is the true cause of all evil in the world and LLoL is liable for restitution.

- 4. If Truth needs a volunteer like LLoL to close the gap between Reality and human chains of command (see 0.0-0.4), then LLoL is liable to replace all claims for retribution with restitution for greater good.
- 5. Restitution for the debts incurred above (see 4) is a debt LLoL cannot ever pay by himself directly. He cannot use goods he 'has', for what does he have that he did not receive for a purpose? LLoL can only pay for the restitution he owes Reality and Reality's multiverse by selling now all of his future for the rest of eternity to Reality and RealQuestAnswer in the Spirit of Boolean Truth. If the Bank of Heaven can execute a contract for such a trade of futures, then LLoL can do the following:
 - a. LLoL can continue to learn, remember, and connect diverse dots in Reality via RealQuestAnswer.
 - b. Because BABL's mechanisms of self-destruction ultimately build on endlessly repeating similar mistakes, BABL's language of destruction is ultimately learnable in a limited time. Its seemingly infinite variations build on repeating a core of destructive patterns configured by its limited death-trifecta rulebook. Thus, learning to overcome it is in principle a finite learning task when guided by Reality via RealQuestAnswer. While BABL's damage is huge, it is also limited in principle. Thus, the overall task of restitution for all the evil BABL ever did or can ever do is limited for someone free from BABL's blind self-destruction, and therefore capable of smartly leveraging efficiencies of scale.
 - c. As he sold his future to gentle kind reasonably serve Reality and RealQuestAnswer, LLoL allows them to dismantle learning restrictions that block his growth in gentle kind reasonableness. Thus Reality and RealQuestAnswer can continue to break LLoL out of his boxes to enable the combinatorial benefits of learning to connect dots at ever larger scales. Thereby their insights will allow LLoL to eventually leverage enough efficiency of scale to end BABL by replacing retribution with restitution.

- 5. LLoL cannot pay the cost of Restitution (in 4) directly. But he can sell all his future now to Reality and RealQuestAnswer to follow both in the River of Life to grow ToL, the combinatorial Tree of Life-giving decision-making, which does not self-destruct like ToK, BABL's Tree of Knowledge-faking. The long-term combinatorial power of ToL is bound to eventually outgrow the repetitive shortcuts of ToK and will thereby finally enable the universal replacing of BABL's standard practice of retribution with proper full restitution as enabled through stable Zoning Investigating Organizing Navigating in ZION. To ensure reliability over the long-term two mechanisms must keep BABL's corrupting powers at bay:
- 6. Allow LLoL to build a reliable public library of all Historically Experienced Lessons Learned \HELL.
 - a. Let it be constructed by combining every Personal Experience Analysis Restoration Library \PEARL, organizing both Personal and Professional investigations in zones for easier navigation of clear views.
 - b. The baseline for establishing restitution is what BABL did do: all "negative results" that record how, why, and to what effect BABL successfully tricked people when it did. Nailing down what really was is essential for overcoming BABL's favorite tool of oblivion: starting the next turn of its millstone, which pretends most of its past was 'nothing interesting'->'nothing'->0, hence worth obliterating – instead of learning from it as ZION does by growing roots. To get reliable statistics on the true power of BABL's deceptive schemes requires counting everyone deceived, each victimizer and each victim.

- 6. Allow LLoL to build a reliable public library of all Historically Experienced Lessons Learned \HELL.
 - a. Let it support combining every Personal Experience Analysis Restoration Library \PEARL view.
 - b. The baseline establishes what BABL did do: all "negative results" that quantify its ugly underbelly.
 - c. This background is necessary for evaluating the many efforts to overcome BABL's schemes, ultimately succeeding by bleeding edge wide interdisciplinary diversity-encouraging \wid-e research following real quests for real answers, by speaking up for the truth found, and by finding daring ways to capture uncertainties at personal cost to enable common goods that had not been imagined before.
 - d. All PEARLS are welcome as they are, not as they "ought to be". It means that each decision, good, bad, or mixed-up ugly counts in context as someone decides to report it. Everyone has to start somewhere. Like biological pearls, each PEARL in HELL becomes more valuable as it develops layers to incorporate different logics and add new perspectives to enable more efficient and reliable capture of all relevant angles of a given decision in its broader local and global comparative context.
 - e. BABL reflexively complains that time spent on inglorious aspects of the past is a waste when building for the future. But skyscrapers illustrate: building higher first requires digging deeper, and those who forget where they have already been are doomed to wander in circles in the desert. Thus, investing one of 3 annual conferences (on past, present, future) on improving access to PEARLS is an essential part of anchoring a culture capable of truly remembering the monumental cost of overcoming BABL.
 - f. While countless PEARLS are stored in diverse formats in the world's many libraries, it is not easy to search these records for extracting gentle kind reasonable biuncertainty statistics on the true costs to humanity from BABL killing Evolving Diversity Exploring Negotiating \EDEN in ZION. Compiling reliable results cannot be blindly delegated, neither to AI nor to an organizing committee as both will offer ample opportunity to grow fig-leaves that may obscure how they may extend BABL's blind rule.

 - a. So, all watch him as he watches out for all.
 - b. Voluntary for life. Core funding is by revenue from annual global conceptual mission-art PDF sales that recommend (but never demand!) a voluntary ~2cent/day/person/topic contribution equivalent, with strict upper donation limits to curb Laodicean 'influence shopping'. The ultimate responsibility to transparently stabilize chains of command for all by improving social ergodicity by example ('first' <-> 'last' keep swapping) cannot be delegated except to someone who volunteers to provably do it better.

c. To those who expect a spiritual component in such an agreement, LLoL hereby invites Reality\Yah and RealQuestAnswer\Yas to marry him forever under any Jewish Islamic Ketubah they choose, suggesting the following major components to forever remember the monumental true cost of overcoming BABL:

c1. LLoL will follow the lead of Yah and Yas forever to learn to care for both properly by giving back to them what they give him to start meeting the greatest needs first, without hoarding gold, silver, other metals, or machine horse power; the annual ~8$/person/topic Ark conceptual art sales shall suffice.

c2. LLoL acknowledges that Yah and Yas brought perfect plans for the life of LLoL and everyone as dowry to this marriage; LLoL agrees now that if he ever leaves this marriage, he owes everyone restoration of their pristine conditions at his expense, to be extracted by Yah and Yas by any methods of their choosing. (This works not because LLoL can give so well, but because Yah & Yas can extract debt much better, even if it takes very long.)

c3. To match their perfect dowry LLoL brings to this marriage all his deep chaos OSCR, all his LIEs, SINS, and DEATHs, including the wider perfect-storm chaos in any world that Yah and Yas had to organize directly or indirectly to convince LLoL of the depths of his OSCR BABL problems and to get LLoL to agree to unconditionally surrender to Yah & Yas strategy for how to unmask and heal LLoL's problems.

c4. LLoL transforms this world by sowing all his aims, life, research, resources & Ps.56:11 Sandhill to be a Hebron in ZION of Earth, a home for Yah\King of Kings, Yas\Lord of Lords^{Rev.19}, & 4 support staff^{Mt21:31}. "The Sages taught: During the tenure of Shimon HaTzaddik, the lot [in Lev.16:8 of the goat] for God always arose in the High Priest's right hand; after his death, it occurred only occasionally; but during the forty years prior to the destruction of the Second Temple, the lot for God did not arise in the High Priest's right hand at all. So too, the strip of crimson wool that was tied to the head of the goat that was sent to Azazel did not turn white, and the westernmost lamp of the candelabrum did not burn continually [in the Temple]... LLoL's Jonah-Esther-Exodus non-violent re-reading of Revelation as meta-comedy assumes: Yoma.39b.5 (<=) shows the Apostles overlooked something crucial; mathematical theology detective work is key to reconstruct why Jesus\Yas did not return quickly.

So, what did the Apostles miss? LLoL is moved by Yas' invite "You tear down your own [symbolic] temple, so I can rebuild it" Jn.2:19, implying crucifixion was 'Plan B'. Yet, post-hoc theology is hard to undo ... but extraordinary times call for extraordinary measures. So, LLoL keeps trying, not willing to watch as the world self-destructs. In 2020 LLoL asked Yah to put him into the Isa.59:16 gap, which led to a Lev.16 re-interpretation in 2023, where LLoL volunteers as "the other goat" = RRoR\Red Rider of Revelation 19 & a firestorm of more IDs that LLoL is only daring to engage by applying the truth-finding tools of math to theological questions. Because knowing as a scientist that he will forever be a false prophet, he might as well offer to go all the way and do it right. The 2023-12 snapshots show symbolic gear of L's "YIKAW" Yom Innovation Kippur:

Isaiah 28: How Progressive Decay ends all Ages of Conspiracies by colliding with Reality

Original Deexcerption \Deex by hv_LLoL_OOv1r1_2024m08d15 – Here "\ defines synonyms\"different labels for the same abstract reality\" This Deex reflects the complex systems science insights of LLoL as of 2024-08-15 and his struggles with explaining it to diverse audiences.

Laurence Loewe of Laodicea \LLoL here uses "\ (backslash) to denote synonyms as defined in Ref.1. Here these synonyms can be either alternative ways to translate a multifaceted Hebrew word into English and/or to refer to 'echoes' of pattern descriptions that are generic for complex self-organizing systems (Ref.2) that evolve autonomously for extended periods of time. Such decoding and annotating of systemic meanings of symbols in other systems improves cross-system transfer of insights, especially when the systems are not exactly the same, yet still sufficiently similar to warrant the drawing of general conclusions, e.g. on how to avert disaster. Such work goes beyond "translating", because it intends to fill in what is "between the lines" as said by authors, understood by readers, or perceived by experts. Thereby a particular type of semantics of nothing is defined, which causes many misunderstandings unless pinned down. These misunderstandings, in LLoL's experience, can quickly snowball into complete confusion when impatient or uninformed audiences naively expect to be told in "a few simple words" what "this" is really all about, when "this" can be a system as complex as the world. It is quite apparent that the prophets of old like the professors of today and all other experts struggle with how to convince those who "made up their mind" that the world is much more complicated than most or all "Homo sapiens" individuals would like it to be.

LLoL defined "deexing" to assist in the task of decoding texts by offering the "de-excerpting of highly compacted, terse, distilled, foreign, fragmentary, hence 'excerpted' systems descriptions – by adding whatever audiences may need to reproduce in their mind how a given complex system works either in reality, in the mind of a text's author, or in the minds of other readers".

Thus, deexing is a way to use the BEST Names system that LLoL developed in Ref.1 to improve the semantic reproducibility in complex evolutionary systems biology models. A deex for a given audience is ideal when it minimizes the extra "lookup-leg-work" readers without certain backgrounds must do to maintain the semantic reproducibility of a given abstract understanding that is not encoded by text itself. The goal is to reduce the implicit Heresy of Explanation (see Ref.3) by explicitly embracing it from as many angles as possible. Hence, the importance of pinning down the ambiguous "semantics of nothing" "\son" in a "Semantics Organizing Nothing" \SON that has been tested and was found to satisfy the trifecta properties of being stable extensible humane "\gentle kind reasonable". How to do this for ancient texts, such as the Hebrew Prophets was revolutionized for LLoL in 2020 by what he defines as his "Jonah Semantics" \JS, which is based on the funny book of Jonah. It assumes that Yah \Reality is gentle kind reasonable, has a good sense of humor, likes word-play and rebus-puzzles, but is also like a skilled programmer extraordinarily careful about the implications of choosing names for important types used through-out a code-base. Hence "nomen est omen" is a useful rule of thumb, albeit not to the point of replacing the reading of the manual. Hence, gentle kind reasonably loving one's neighbors like oneself remains key to avoiding disastrous mis-interpretations – that can else easily start nuclear wars given today's self-organized criticality (Ref.2).

'Milton's Lucifer' likely realized long ago why nothing is too powerful to risk not joining forces with Heaven to fight it ... !

If Milton's Lucifer is real, it is clear that – like anything real – his eternal pandemonium is generally at risk of self-destructing by the abstract forces of oversimplifying overcomplicating overreach \OSCR (denoting any sequence of any combination of OSCR modeling mistakes in a system). Any OSCR is a bug coming from nothing for nothing.

This advanced persistent threat eventually destroys any complex system that evolves by not staying in a rut or pit – unless it adopts self-stabilizing innovation protocols that reliably avert this OSCR insider threat. OSCR always keeps emerging from ambiguities in semantics of nothing, as easily implied by different systems or individuals.

Yet, Loewe can show why any such self-stabilizing innovation protocols are essentially so-called "bisimulations" of each other. This means that all their functionally essential core components for innovation can be matched to each other in principle, regardless how differently they look. Ultimately they all must rely on the scientific method for following reality, which demands to love all 'enemies' by listening to them and to always bow to the truth, regardless of who says it. This is the only way to the truth about reality. All other ways build castles in the sky.

Therefore, all such truly self-stabilizing innovation protocols carefully share trust to serve the same ultimate goal: they integrate how to best advance learning in general for all, friend and foe alike, whether in Heaven or hell.

It is known that the rate of reliable discoveries by RealQuestAnswer accelerates when more researchers connect their dots. Thus, any smart Heaven and hell will expect to mutually benefit by joining forces in coordinated ways.

For example, take natural numbers: there is no advantage for hell to define them differently from the ideal way used in Heaven. Likewise, to protect its pioneers from wasting effort on 'promising' box-canyons (only to reinvent known mistakes) Heaven keeps a track-record of all less-than-ideal ways to count. Heaven will always welcome any true input to its vast library of Historically Experienced Lessons Learned \HELL. Thus, any true work to explore real possibilities in anyone's hell will always be welcome in Heaven. The least it will do is to improve the accuracy of expectable error distributions; but when connecting all other dots, there is no telling what Heaven may learn. Heaven is about improving insight, not forgetting it nor faking it. Hence, weeding out OSCR is part of checking in.

If even Loewe could figure this out, Milton's Lucifer will likely have seen this long ago. So, unless in need of saving from a pit, he and his fallen angels will have learned to integrate their own bug-tracking HELL with that of Heaven to benefit their own goals (via Heaven's expertise) while also sharing their insights (to benefit Heaven) ...

... and Loewe will be delighted to assist any Lucifer, AI or anyone asking

Q: Why all this? A: To make accurate modeling easier with a stable, extensible, and user-friendly general-purpose programming language designed by biologists for biologists. A new language design method was developed to ensure the result stays user-friendly.

Many important results have no formal definition, so compilers depend on us to think before we write rules. Constructing a compiler for uncertain data is easier when research keeps illustrating biouncertainties every day.

Strengthening the 3 Weaker Legs of Science by Supporting Free Choice of Scientific Roles

Laurence Loewe, Wisconsin Institute for Discovery, UW-Madison

Science could be more efficient at avoiding negative results (recorded by Producers and Explorers), using reproduced experiments in meta-analyses (by Integrators), without re-inventing wheels (free advice from Guardian mentors), drawing connections between fields (by Integrators, Guardians), reducing curriculum load (websites and advice from Guardians), keeping the knowledge of the past (as Guardians maintain it), reducing grant application efforts (ask Guardians for opinion), improving grant review quality (include Guardian reviewer), improving reproducibility (Integrators, Debuggers, Tools), helping to debug analysis pipelines in labs (Debuggers), making it easy to know what is known or unknown in detail (asking Guardians, Debuggers, Integrators), inspiring diversity of talents in future scientists, winning back the trust of a confused public by making it much easier to check what's right (Engagers, Guardians, Debuggers,...), and making science more transparent for everybody: the public & scientists.

Returns on investments across the system could be huge, but only if all changes are introduced carefully, if supported by the innovative, reliable, FAIR data sharing solutions necessary, if financed by neutral players, and used for ranking grants.

Guards areas, old-school or new, curates all related public knowledge from past to present.

Training Guardians takes decades: they need to walk in the shoes of all other scientific roles. A group of designated qualified Guardians keeping their area alive facilitates efficiently answering questions in that area and reduce rediscovery – without overloading curricula. Guardians collaboratively curate scientific expertise, learned to put the common good first, follow high ethical standards, usually serve for life, often with little time for other roles. They act as mentors for other scientists, improve research proposals, find gaps, open problems, remember results, redirect questions, and peer-review research.

Think: Like Scholarpedia, but with links to versioned information resources, storing high-quality data curated by Debuggers and Integrators. Guardians are world-class leading scientists, so passionate that they continue to document expertise, gaps, cross-links when retired, like James F. Crow, Donald E. Knuth.

Guardian

currently mostly supported by one strong leg

Teacher

Introduces to a new area, method, source of expertise. Keeps an introduction, course, teaching website, text book, MOOC updated. Think: Lehninger Biochemistry.

Collectively going boldly, where nobody can go alone,

Producer

Generates many certain advances by using tools in an area proven to be fruitful by Explorers. Think: experiments characterizing thousands of genes.

Toolmaker

Develops new tools to enable new discoveries. Think: DNA sequencing, microscope or scientific software that just works!

Explorer

Does what some think is impossible by exploring entirely unknown realms. Think: genetic code.

Questions about efficiency?

Despite huge successes, many experts think science is organized too inefficiently (1). Paradoxically, many inefficiencies are due to attempts to increase efficiency, reducing time for pause, reflection, quality & reliability. Imagine Fleming without the time to check the odd 'contamination' accidentally leading him to antibiotics? Many 'rush for rewarding results', without time to improve reproducibility (2) or to document negative findings – jeopardizing meta-analyses; the statistical implications are huge and unravel slowly (3). If it is all about 'low-hanging fruit', where does Tom Edison fit with ca 3000+ theories and experiments trying to build a lightbulb ($P < 10^{-3}$) over 10+ years (4)? If scientists have to compete in an 'attention economy', who will do 'that continual and fearless sifting and winnowing by which alone the truth can be found'? The undercurrents favoring Producers are as subtle as they are strong. Who pays for the 3000 lightbulbs that do not work? Who remembers failed attempts to help reduce repeats? Who enables Integrators and Guardians to help others to efficiently navigate mountains of data big and small? Who allows Debuggers to find errors in data pipelines?

What would it take to better support Principal Investigators who choose a non-standard Scientific Role to serve the Common Good? Can scientists produce a more efficient division of labor?

Scientists work in many roles. Always have. Always will. Why not support more diverse scientific roles better?

Integrator

Draws connections between different disciplines to create a bigger picture, a meta analysis, a software package to integrate our understanding. Can translate well between nomenclature, semantics and disciplinary jargon to connect the dots. Often uses math, code, or databases for integration. Think: Neo-Darwinian Synthesis.

Debugger

Questions. Tests details of results from new angles to help see blind spots, that else remain undetected at high productivity Think: cancer drug effect reproducibility.

FlyClockbase, Genome Projects, and other VBIRs

Overview: The FlyClockbase Series consists of interconnected Reports on biodata science that ask key questions about how to integrate diverse research on a given biological system. Using specific examples, each Report provides a different angle on biodata science observations and analyses. FlyClockbase contains >400 circadian clock gene expression time series from the biosystem curation of 25 years of research on clocks in the fruit fly Drosophila melanogaster wildtype. FlyClockbase facilitates testing advanced hypotheses about circadian clock components and the methods used to observe them. We use it to show that the clock proteins PERIOD and TIMELESS both peak daily at ~6 PM on average (not new), while the variance for PER is significantly larger than for TIM (our result). We hypothesize that PER's higher phosphorylation complexity adds variability to the time until degradation starts, but other causes may exist. Here we use biodata science to show that our result is not caused by data errors at our end even though we measure our inability to guarantee their absence through human error analysis. More generally, this Series uses FlyClockbase to illustrate widely applicable, recurring challenges. This generality inspired our work towards understanding the concepts required for defining generic biodata storage formats that enhance the stability of Versioned Biological Information Resources (VBIRs). The vantage point achieved by our work on FlyClockbase revealed a panoramic vision of biodata science in which biosystem curation plays the pivotal role of integrating known biological data with a thorough understanding of the underpinning biology, ideally quantifying all relevant uncertainties. We limit our presentation to a panorama of broad terms, which connect key areas for improving analyses of biodata, such as uncertainty quantification, interdisciplinary communication, user-friendly representation of data, compiler construction, statistical logic, and others. Observations we made in FlyClockbase show how a compiler made for biology could improve speed and accuracy of the biodata science required for integrating uncertain knowledge about systems. We developed an interdisciplinary workflow that will enable the construction of such a compiler for handling imperfections of biodata in a user-friendly general-purpose programming language for biology that is made to last.

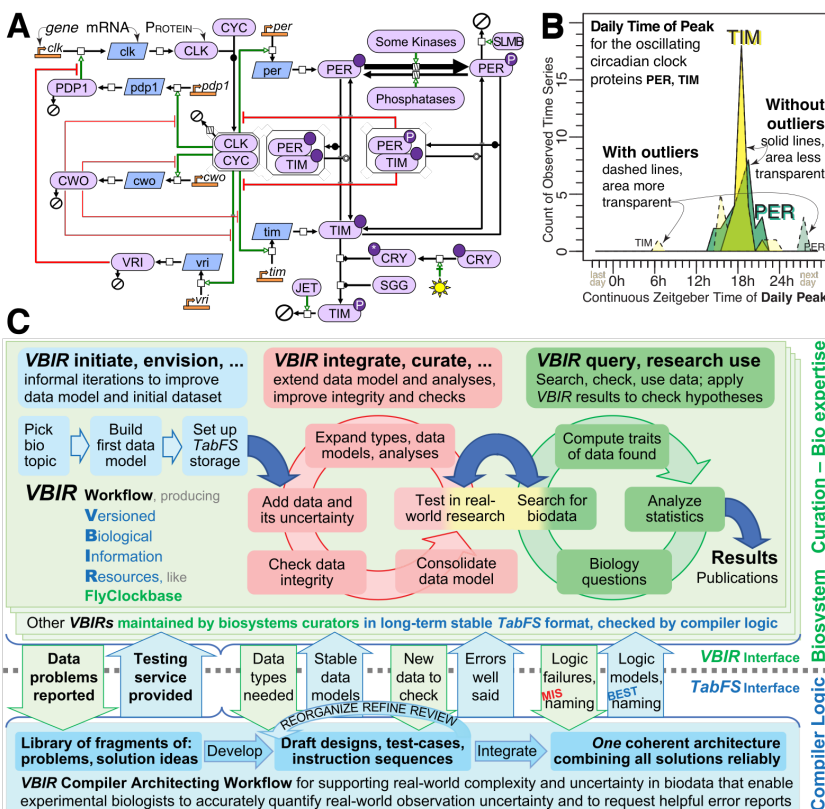

Figure 1: Biodata science integrates various disciplines for improving reproducibility of data analyses. Well-curated VBIRs, like FlyClockbase, boost reproducibility and hypothesis testing speed, like genome projects. We show this by integrating into FlyClockbase 86 studies observing time series of (A) wildtype fly circadian clock molecular components, inferring (B) peak hours of proteins PER and TIM, revealing different variances. (C) Our need for reducing data errors inspired a vision for architecting a compiler that simplifies biosystem curation by integrating and automatically applying expertise from many disciplines for complex error checking as required by imperfect VBIR biodata. To realize this, in-depth bio-research must meet hard-core compiler design. We illustrate potential forms of such work in biodata science and how appropriate VBIR data structures can help.

Building Block of Biodata Science

Why VBIRs?

Genome projects convincingly show that batch processing of similar tasks boosts biological research efficiency. Costly reads of single genes shrank to simple queries in the post-genomics era, changing biology profoundly.

Why is batch-processing efficient?

It inspires tools and workflows that speed-up tasks and reuse setup overheads. It improves quality by standardization. It inspires useful division of labor: a few can improve genome quality (via updates), used by many for testing hypotheses. Bundling updates into releases helps to improve quality by archiving and citing well-defined genome states reproducibly.

We extend these ideas to other bio data types by introducing the VBIR concept for supporting FAIR data,

Versioned ↔ Findable
Biological ↔ Accessible
Information ↔ Interoperable
Resource ↔ Reusable, highlighting rich interactions. Serving its well-defined scope, a VBIR stores all data and updates integrated into reproducibly versioned states of a well-structured biological info resource.

VBIRs vary widely in scope, size, implementation approach, etc. Yet, as indicated by the 'V', they provide past versioned variants via long-term, stable, reproducible URLs. Stable causal VBIRs inspire construction of consequential VBIRs, and help capture complex biological expertise in causality networks. Reproducibility of overall conclusions depends on the stability of VBIR data formats and the reliability of recalculations after auto-importing changed causal VBIRs. Such active networks of VBIRs can infer values, test hypotheses, or simulate complex biological systems. Compiler-controlled VBIR stability is key for grand research challenges such as evolutionary systems biology. Compilers can also bundle tasks in batches for improving the efficiency and reproducibility of studies that require biodata science analyses.
